MUCC PRESIDENTS DINNER By Tim Muir

Back Last month President Rich Benson and I went to Lansing for the 1st annual MUCC president's dinner. This is a new event put on by MUCC to get clubs and club leadership together as a networking event, Meet the staff of MUCC, educate on what exactly MUCC does for us on a day to day basis, and as a thank you to the men and women who lead their respective club.

We both had good conversation with other club representatives and with the MUCC staff. It is becoming more important each year for all outdoors men and women to be on the same page when it comes to conservation issues, game laws, etc. Hopefully going forward both me personally and us as a club will continue to be a productive and active member of the MUCC organization.

Recently the board of directors approved a donation of $4,000 to the MUCC kid's camp for repairs to a building at the camp. MUCC relies on donations and volunteer efforts to keep the camp operational. During the nights events Rich presented the check to MUCC Executive Director Dan Eichinger and asked all the affiliates in attendance to go back to their respected clubs and see what they can do to help. The reception that we got was wonderful with a full room of people gives applause with a few even standing. Many people approached both Rich and myself with words of thanks and of motivation to go back to their club and try and get something done.

We will hopefully be planning a day to volunteer at the camp in Chelsea to help get it ready for the upcoming camp season. We will be needing volunteers to spend a day at the camp doing various tasks. Look for updates in the newsletter and on website and facebook pages on how to sign up.

2018 Life Handicapped Outdoors

2018 Life Handicapped Outdoors Fishing Event will be on June 23, 2018, at Brandenburg Park in Chesterfield, MI. The 2017 event had over 170 participants. Volunteers are needed for 1.5-2 hours in the morning, 7:30 to 9 a.m. and can show up the day of the event. Pictured are LSCWA board member Steve Sharron and event director Louis Caloia.

MUCC Kids Camp by Shawn Elliott

Kids Wanted – to explore, learn, and have fun in the outdoors. Check your calendars and make room for a kid to attend summer camp to create memories that last a lifetime. Once again, the Club will sponsor member's in good standing, their kids and grandkids, to attend MUCC Kids Camp. In 2017, the club sent the most ever kids to camp – 12 and in 2016 eight kids attended camp! This was made possible by the bingo fundraising. John Rooben and I will once again coordinate the Kids Camp committee. Application will be available at Joey's table down stairs. Please see one of us for a MUCC camp brochure or go online to www.mucccamp.org. If you don't know us, then ask a board member to point us out, we are usually at all the meetings. We will need the name of the kid and contact information going to camp on or before the April 2018 general membership meeting. The MUCC Youth Camp, located in Cedar Lake Outdoor Center near Chelsea, Michigan, is a 6-day, 5-night summer adventure designed to instill a love for the outdoors into Michigan's kids ages 9-12. Dates for camp week of June 24-29.

President's Corner

by Richard Benson

Spring is nearly here and there is a lot coming in the next few months! We're looking to start our 2018 derby season off April 20-22 with the weigh-in at Sinbads on the Detroit River, please be aware of the new derby rules for this year! The very next weekend we will be hosting the Battlecreek Steelheaders for the trade a trip. This is the 25th anniversary of this tradition and we're looking to have a great time this year. We will be once again doing the fish-fry on April 28th at the American Legion Hall. Please contact Tim Muir or myself if you can help out taking guys on your boat or for the kitchen crew. We will also need to make sure we have enough fish to feed everybody, so fish donations are also needed.

The May Madness committee has been hard at work putting together what will be our best tournament ever! Sponsors have come on out to support this showcase tournament once again, with Dick Huvaeres Richmond Chrysler Dodge Jeep Ram helping us hold this premier event. First place is a guaranteed $5,000!....and with many positions paid below that, prize packages and also a raffle table with proceeds helping to support our club.

March's general membership meeting will feature Ethan Wright on cold water trolling, which has already begun this year! April will once again be our ever popular swap meet. You must be a member of the LSCWA to sell at our meetings but all are welcome to attend.

We need members to help with this year's motor raffle, please see Bob Barnes to get tickets to sell. Bingo is going great, we can always use another helping hand or two though. See Rich or Tim for more info.

It's going to be a very busy year for us, the fishing should be spectacular as well, so make plans to spend some of it with the LSCWA.

This is YOUR club, be part of it!

Rich Benson, President

MISSION STATEMENT

BOATING SAFETY MAY SAVE YOUR LIFE by Keith Krych

This January on Lake Okeechobee during a BFL Bass tournament, a 38 year old Army veteran was thrown from the boat he was a co-angler on and died. The pro-boater tried to deploy his bow trolling motor to rescue the co-angler, but he lost his balance and fell overboard too. He had to hold on to the trolling motors cord until the boat drifted to shore around 11pm that night. The co-angler wasn't found for four days and died of hypothermia.

The weather at time of takeoff was marginal, but winds were predicted to increase to 18-20 mph. Just to the East on the Ocean there were Small Craft Warnings in effect by the Coast Guard, but because Okeechobee is considered an inland lake there were no warning in effect on the lake. (Okeechobee covers 730 squares miles) The anglers took the inland waterway around part of the lake, then cut across the middle of the lake just as the winds increased. The boat speared a wave tossing the co-angler from the boat and disabling the main motor. Both anglers were wearing lifejackets as required by tournament rules.

OK those were the facts of the accident. This is where we can learn from their and the tournament official's mistakes.

First Lake Okeechobee is a HUGE lake and about as deep as Lake St Clair. So it can get mean in a hurry. The weather was marginal at the start but higher winds were coming in from the ocean just east and the USCG had a small craft advisory in effect just off shore where the winds were coming from.

Tournament officials almost always want to get a tournament in. They can't reschedule dates most of the times and they put the responsibility on the anglers a lot of the times. This is bad in many ways.

The boater in this case took the shortest route to his chosen fishing spot in deteriorating conditions. This was a bad decision on his part. He speared a wave so he also may have been running too fast for the conditions also.

When the co-angler was tossed from the boat, the boater tried to restart the big motor but it failed to start. He then went to front of the boat to deploy his trolling motor. This was a huge mistake. His First action should have been to mark the man overboard on his GPS. This would have save countless hours of looking for the man and could have saved his life by itself. He also should have checked his Kill Switch that was attached to his life jacket. If he speared a wave hard enough to toss his co-angler overboard, his Kill Switch was probably dislodged also.

Next he should of call for help on a VHF radio. The problem is Bass tournaments don't require a VHF radio!?! Make sure you have one, a wet cell phone is useless and cell towers do not cover all the lake.

His next action should have been to deploy an anchor. Again bass boats do not usually carry an anchor. On the Great Lake you should have an anchor rated for your boar with at least 6' of heavy chain and 150' of good line. As well as a See Anchor (drift sock).

If the boater would have had this basic safety equipment on board, the accident would have turned out quite differently for both of them.

Make sure you check your lifejackets for holes, mildew and fading at the start of every season. If you have an inflatable lifejacket, it's a very good idea to change the cartage and pellet also at the start of the year. Check your throwable also for mold, tears and make sure the line attached is at least 50' long.

Check your VHF radio and if it needs replacement get one of the newer ones with DSC distress calling feature.

Check your anchor line and get at least two sea anchors (drift socks) if you don't have them.

Double check your fire extinguishers, they recently had a recall on them. The powder inside fire extinguishers can get compacted in a boat, so it's a good idea to turn them upside down shake them at the start of the season. Some also have expiration dates stamped on the bottom of the canister, so double check that too.

Make sure you have a whistle or other sound producing device handy. A lot of anglers put one on their life vests. Also a Personal signal device is a good idea for a PFD, (whistle, flashing device, calamine stick).

Another thing to check every season is your Visual Distress Signals (VDSs). Check the expiration date on the flares, smoke devices, or meteors. Also make sure you have a distress flag, orange with black square and circle. Have a handheld night light with extra batteries on board too.

A float plan is always a good idea to do before going on the water. Let someone know where your launching, where you'll be fishing and how long you'll be gone.

Finally, but it should be first on the list. If you haven't taken a Safe Boating Course, TAKE ONE NOW!!!

BPS Spring Classic 2018

by Bob Barnes

Is it April yet? It has been a long winter and I am logging to jig up some eyes on the D. This year as in years past the club has maned a table at Bass Pro Shops Spring Classic. We promoted the club and sold motor raffle tickets. Lots of smiling faces and people stocking up for the upcoming season.

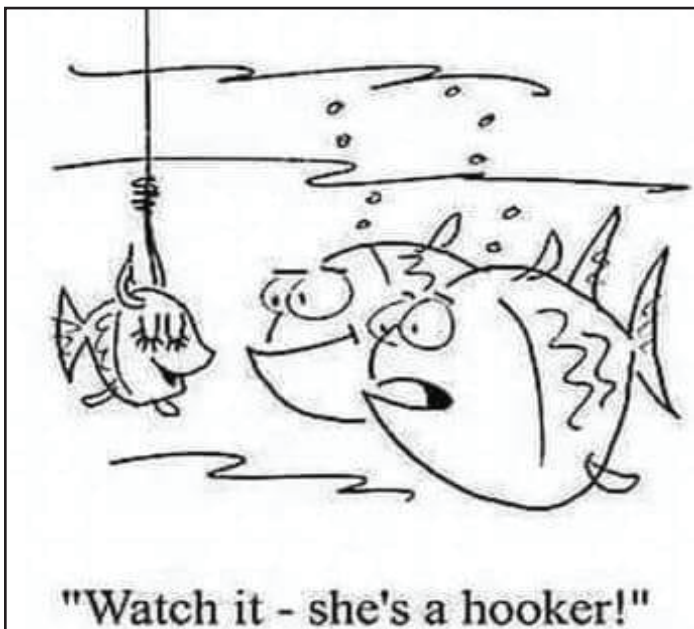

I would like to thank all who helped at the Spring Classic and Bass Pro Shop for their support of the club over the years.

Trade a Trip

This year's trade a trip will be one of the best yet. It is the 25th anniversary of the trip swap between us and the battle creek steelheaders. The guys from battle creek will be coming over on the weekend of April 28th-29th. we will be having a fish fry for them at the American legion hall where our meetings are at. I need guys to step up and take our guests fishing and also will need a cook crew for the fish fry. If you would like to volunteer get a hold of me or any board member.

We will be going to salmon fish the next weekend May 5th-6th. I will need to now by early April If you plan on going. I will have a list of a couple places near there that guys have stayed at before but feel free to make your own accommodations.

FEBRUARY 2018 TREE HOUSE Anglers GET – 2 – GETHER

By David A. Wilemski

February 28'th at 8:30 AM was a fairly good turn-out for our monthly breakfast club get-together. We had 7 hungry individuals participate. Straw Berry Fields on 23 Mile Road in Chesterfield has a great selection of tasty meals. Waitress 'Cheryl' was excellent at serving our meals, taking our picture and picking the winning ticket. She wants to join our club.

Richard won the Lucky Dollar, and it is guaranteed to buy a winning Lotto Ticket.

Discussions centered on Mark giving many people the "Bird" when he used to raise and sell Pheasants. Doug told about his lucky hunting land near US 65 & 55 up north, Curtis still looking for a new house. I was celebrating my Annual Birthday.

See you all March 28 at Bob Evans.

MARCH GUEST SPEAKER

The guest speaker at our March meeting will be Ethan Wright. The seminar topic will be open water trolling for walleye. Come out and try and cure some of that spring fever and maybe learn a thing or two. It is almost that time.

Across the Pond with Captain Nick from Pond Predator Charters

Hey Guys Nick here from Pond Predator Charters. I wanna talk about our winter walleye season and what we can expect this spring. We were very fortunate to have a cold start to the winter resulting in good early ice and with that brought some phenomenal walleye fishing on the Thames River. With light currents and clean visibility early in the season we were able to dial in fish quickly that were averaging 20-24 inches with some big fish in the 28-31 inch class. Seemed like everyone's favorite spots were producing with the best bite being around 8am. I had great success on chartreuse Swedish pimples, Orange Sonic Spoons by Extreme tackle, Kamookies and buckshot jigs. Baits tipped with live minnows were a must and it seemed the more minnows you could get on the hook the better. The deep holes in the lake were also producing fish, but unfortunately with the mild January thaw we had, it made for very unstable and unsafe ice conditions out in the middle of the lake. Walleye anglers were then targeting and catching fish in 4-6 feet of water off of places like Belle River and Stoney point but the bite was really hit or miss. With the ice out we are all going to have spring river walleye on our minds and I think for good reason. Last year there was a lot of 14-18 inch fish in the Erie/Detroit River/LSC system. I think we are gonna find a big growth in those numbers making 2018 one of our most productive years in a while. American side should see a lot more fish in the slot size and hopefully if the season is on schedule we will start to see fish being caught by the last week of March with good schooling numbers of fish by second week of April. Our biggest threat early season is unpredictable wind and dirty water. Last year our boat netted 1850 walleye in a 10 week period making it a record year for me. I would love to see that again this year and we have good reason to believe it will. Last year was also a record year for me on LSC seeing huge numbers of schooling fish on the south shore staying around till as late as the end of July and to be honest never stopped but by then we are switching gears into our Muskie program. We ran a lot of shad raps on our summer program with silver and black being the most productive in as shallow as 4fow and deep as 17fow so fish were spread and on the move. I hope everyone had a great safe winter and good luck this spring. If you see us on the water be sure to wave. Follow us on Facebook at Pond Predator Charters for up to date conditions, reports and news from the Canadian side of the river and lake. Tight lines!

Welcoming Spring Recipes

by Alex Vitek

Properly packaged, wrapped and frozen fish can easily remain tasty for up to a year. If kept frozen at very low temperatures the fish can still be OK to eat for a couple of years but it will no longer taste good. Time to check the freezers for packages of fish left over from last fall or the start of the winter's ice season.

These two recipes are great for pot-lucks, dinner parties or those afternoons when the gang is over. I have tried each of them. The Perch Cocktail dip was an afternoon meal not all that long ago. The Perch Dip is a recipe from Capt Dan Chimilak, part owner of Lakeside Fishing Shop in St. Clair Shores. Lakeside has been a consistent friend of the LSCWA since the start. The shop has hosted one or more of the club's summer Walleye weigh-in derbies each year since the start. Dan himself has been known to whip up a quick taste treat for those who attended. This is one of his party snacks.

CAPT DAN'S FAMOUS PERCH COCKTAIL DIP

1 pound skinned Perch fillets

4 tablespoons Horseradish

2 tablespoons Minced Garlic

3/4 cup Cocktail Sauce

1 cup grated cheese (pick your favorite)

Boil the Perch fillets in salted water for 3 minutes. Drain and cool in ice water. Drain and crumble the fillets.

Mix all the ingredients and put in the fridge for 2 hours.

Capt Dan recommends serving with crackers. An optional choice is to use the slices of the Cocktail Bread available either as a Rye or a Pumpernickel bread. They can be found in the deli area of most larger supermarkets.

Note: Many might think that there is too much Horseradish but it works. The horseradish mellows out while the dip is resting in the refrigerator.

Richard Benson has been club president for several years now and before that served on the Board of Directors. Being an active fisherman has kept Rich's freezer stocked with Walleye fillets. On more than one occasion I have had the opportunity to try his Walleye Dip.

RICHARD BENSON'S WALLEYE DIP

Approx 1 to 1 1/4 pound of filleted Walleye, poached.

1 cup Sour Cream

1 cup Mayonnaise

1/2 cup plus Parmesan Cheese

Ground or finely minced Garlic (not Garlic Salt)

Old Bay seasoning

Optional additions:

Minced Artichokes

Cooked and shredded Spinach

Poach Walleye and break apart. Put the fish, mayo, sour cream, most of the Parmesan Cheese into a large mixing bowl, some of the granulated garlic and the optional artichokes or spinach. Stir and blend together without breaking the fish into tiny pieces. Add more garlic or Parmesan Cheese to taste. Spread mixture out in a loaf pan or casserole dish, preferably glass, and sprinkle some Old Bay seasoning over the top.

Place in 350 degree oven until the spread is warmed all the way through with just a slight crust on top.

Serve very warm or hot with pieces of a bread loaf, pita bread or crackers.
